Foreword

On the completion of education at Plainfield High School, each of us will take a different path to reach our one ideal. The individual knowledge acquired and the various experiences lived through will leave a lasting impression in the minds of every individual and will influence us when we choose our place in society. Though our discoveries in future years will constantly develop and grow, that education gained at Plainfield High School will become an implanted stone, which worn and smoothed through the years, is molded into our sea of knowledge.

Everyone of us will always carry the particular portion of education that he or she has gained. It may be only a small part of the person's being; but when these segments are molded together, they exist as the foundation of our high school.

FACULTY

Just as a pebble hitting water causes the evocation of ripples, the faculty provides the inspiration which will affect the education of the students. Although this influential force may seem to end with a student's formal schooling, its effect will reach into the many phases of his life.

Principal

Mr. Wallace F. Gleason, Principal

As the circle of life widens, so does the influence you have upon others. While you were in this school, you were given the opportunity to learn the important steps necessary for making wise decisions. Each year another circle was added. In this circle you included new friends. These people were attracted to you because of your pleasant personality, your understanding and willingness to help others. In this circle you included new ideas. These ideas enriched your life, for you found greater success with greater knowledge. The experiences you had as these circles grew larger helped to form a pattern for life. Your association with teachers and students guided your thinking in such a way as to help you to rich rewards. So it will be in life as you broaden your horizon. Look ahead to greater things. Reach for the stars and you will continue to improve. With all you have at your command, you should find satisfaction in life with a good family and a comfortable home.

Wallace F. Gleason

Mr. Gleason heartily congratulates Bob Ponzio on his election to the office of President of the New Jersey Association of High School Councils.

SENIORS

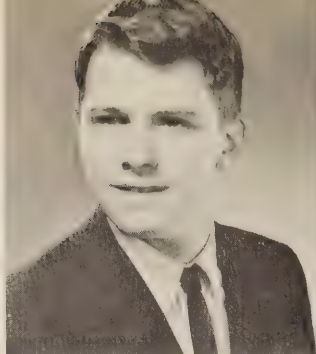

The Seniors can be compared to the outermost circles in our scheme of development. After three years in school, they have experienced the various aspects of growing socially, culturally, and intellectually. When the ripples leave the immediate area of their origin, no one really knows how far they will go. In the same way, when the Seniors graduate, there is no way of knowing how far or in what direction their lives will take them.

Foreign Exchange Student

During half-time, our Cardinal, Buddy Herzog, and Twirler captain, Jane Fisher, pose with Jane's "sister" Ako.

On August 5, 1964, Atsuko Tanaka, better known as "Ako", arrived in Plainfield to be Plainfield High School's fifth AFS student. Having attended a private girls' school in Kobe, Japan, Ako found Plainfield to be large, noisy, and crowded. She soon adjusted to the school, her American family, the Fishers, and to life in Plainfield. Always cheerful, Ako finds plenty to keep her busy. A member of Drama Club, Pep Club, AFS, and King's Daughters, she also manages to earn more than her share of "A's" and to make the Honor Roll. When Ako returns to Kobe, she will attend Konen Girl's College and major in English literature.

Senior Class Council

The Senior Class Council is responsible to the class of 1965 for making their final year a successful and rewarding one. The council supervised the Senior Play, drew up the traditional list of senior privileges and worked especially hard to make the Senior Prom the best ever. Our class officers, Joanne Lippman, Neil Dadd, Robin Kartagener, and Sally Bliss, deserve our thanks for leading us in these undertakings.

Class History 1965

In September, 1962, we began our Sophomore year with enthusiasm and spirit. After the first few weeks of confusion — learning names, wandering about the halls, and getting used to high school life — we settled down to serious studying with high hopes for the three years to come.

Elections were held under the supervision of our class advisor, Mr. Sterling. Our competent officers were Richard Gleason, president; Sue Goldman, vice-president; Willow Krienke, secretary; and Roger Coven, treasurer. Our first financial venture as a class, the Sophomore Party, was very successful. Later in the year, class dues were instituted.

Returning to PHS as juniors, the class of '65 was ready for another active year. We elected Jack Comune as our class president. Along with Jack, we elected Sue Goldman as vice-president, Robin Kartagener as secretary, and Buddy Herzog as treasurer. Once again, our treasury was filled by holding a Junior Dance and selling candy.

In the Fall of 1964, the largest class in the history of Plainfield High School was beginning its final phase of high school life. Joanne Lippman was elected class president; Neil Dadd, vice-president; Robin Kartagener, secretary; and Sally Bliss, treasurer. Most of our time was spent filling out college applications and counting the days until graduation. Our senior play, "The Imaginary Invalid" by Moliere, was not only a financial success, but it was praised as being one of the best plays ever presented in Plainfield High School. After the Hall of Fame elections in January, we really began to realize how little time we had left.

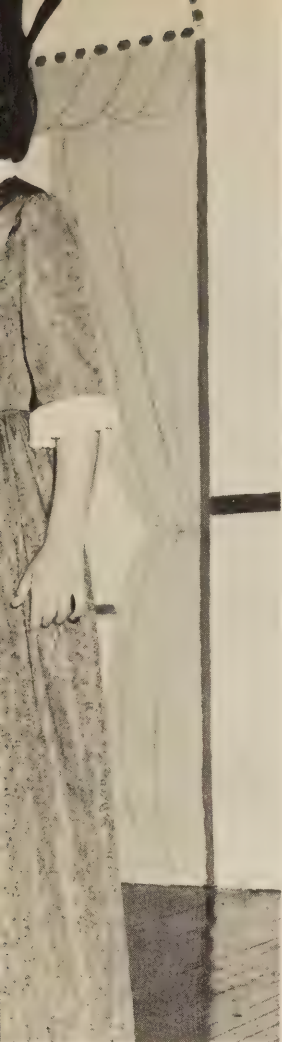

The prom was held at the Washington House on June 5, 1965. This marked the end of the most important years of our lives. These years have ended, but they will not be forgotten. We may scatter all over the world and lead different types of lives, but the influence of our days in Plainfield High School will always be with us.

"Double, double, toil and trouble . . ."

Senior Play

Cynthia Biondi, Buddy Herzog, Robin Kartagener, and Karen Huff display their mixed emotions.

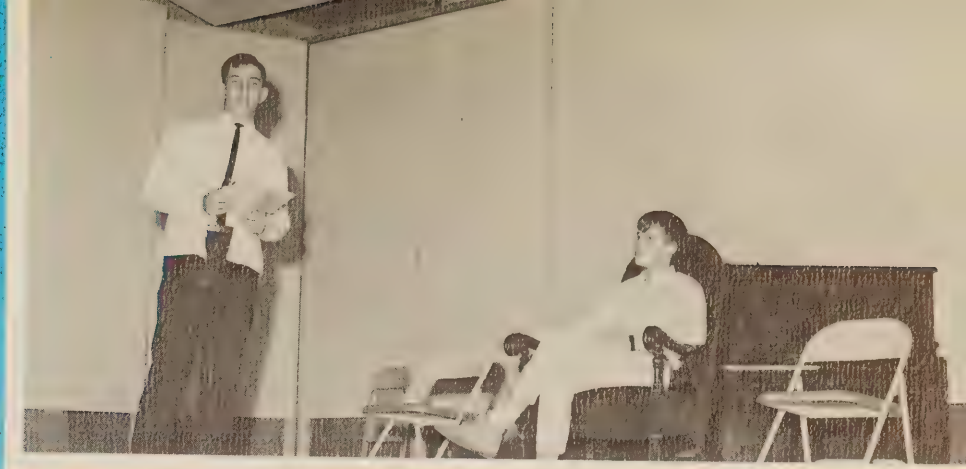

"Should I kiss her?"

"Oh, you look very sick."

UNDERCLASSMEN

The underclassmen are just beginning to experience the growing process, for they have obtained their first taste of the instruments which will help them develop. Like the first few undulations, these students will grow rapidly in their own unique way.

With one year behind them, the juniors entered PHS again with high hopes for the year. Much has been accomplished under the leadership of Class President Russell Passarella, Vice-President Robert Ponzio, Secretary Sharon Owens, and Treasurer Kay Meaney in cooperation with Mr. Otto, class advisor.

Activities included the anticipation and receiving of class rings and the tension on the morning that many students took the Preliminary PSAT's. A successful class dance in March was the highlight of the season.

Class of 1967

John McCurdy

Sophomores

The Class of 1967 started their high school career off with the highly successful Sophomore Dance. Those who attended enjoyed themselves greatly.

This new Sophomore Class has begun somewhat more prepared than those preceding it. They already knew that there were no elevators and that the upperclassmen aren't really so bad.

Class officers were not elected for this year, although a class representative was chosen. By doing this the students hope to learn more about government in the prospect of making their next two years at PHS more effective.

ACTIVITIES

The elaboration of the ripples must be smooth and flowing. Similarly, in the evolvement of our student body, there must be a complement to the classroom education in order to have a smooth and complete growth. School activities provide this necessary addition to help enlarge the scope of the student's interest.

SPORTS

Just as certain of the ripples are more pronounced and vivid from their close physical contact with the pebble, the students who participate in extra-curricular athletic programs respond to the desire for physical activity and, in doing so, bring recognition not only to themselves, but to their teammates and to the school they represent.

Football

The Class of 65 saw the P.H.S. Varsity football team again attain fabulous heights. Under the guidance of Head Coach Abe Smith and his able assistants Mr. Richard Kern, Mr. Lew Watts, Mr. Gerald Farkas, and Mr. Nick Chrisicos, the team compiled a record. The Cards again gave their school the Central Jersey Group IV Championship.

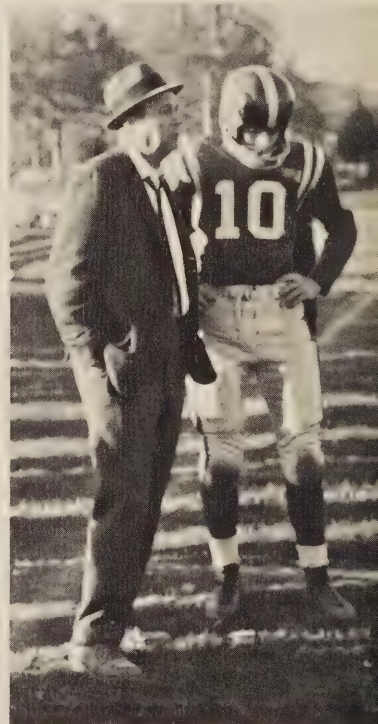

Leading out the retiring seniors are Ray Tice, Vic Washington, and Jack Comune. Returning lettermen will include Butch Kates, Pete Boyton, Don Marcantonio, Bruce Young, and Maurice Brown.

Milestone Salutes Coach Brann

The '65 basketball season was a credit to both Coach Bill Brann and to his fine team. They concluded a winning season with a 9-8 record. The team was led by returning lettermen Don Alexander and Daryll Burgess. Coach Brann has prospects for an even brighter future with lettermen Ed Hatchet, Bruce Howard, and "Jazzy" McDaniels returning.

Year History

Remember September?—It seems so long ago now. Remember the regret at leaving summer friends and summer freedoms—? Remember the new plans, the dreams that this year was to realize? Some of them were only fantasies and have vanished, but some came true. It is these that give us pleasure to recall now, in June, a year away.

SEPTEMBER: We left the sunny summer sands to return to the world of tucked-in shirts, combed hair, and shod feet. There was a new class of Sophomores to be hazed and assimilated. We chose our Student Council representatives. The Seniors began to count the days until June.

OCTOBER: By this time we had given up all hope of summer's returning and settled down to make this the best year yet. The Fall Mixer gave the Sophomores a chance to get into the social swing.

NOVEMBER: A lively month. The supporters of L.B.J. battled it out with those of Ba Au H₂O. The Plainfield football team beat Westfield! The Senior Play "left 'em rolling in the aisles." Bob Ponzio was elected President of the State Council.

DECEMBER: Seniors took the College Boards for the last time and rushed off hopeful applications, then began the long wait with crossed fingers. The Christmas Choral Concert put us in the mood for the holidays. The home rooms engaged in the annual stamp contest. Winter arrived, the class of '64 held its reunion, and we all enjoyed a long vacation.

JANUARY: Seniors resumed counting the days. The Senior-Faculty Basketball Game provided the money to readopt Kim. We had snow and subzero temperatures—but always on the weekends. Again we lost a great man close to our hearts. He was British, but had been made an honorary American citizen. The world mourned the death of Sir Winston Churchill, surely the greatest man of this century.

FEBRUARY: Our Small Mixed Chorus was the hit of the National Convention of High School Music Teachers at Buffalo. Washington had a birthday, and the A.F.S. had a Tag Day. Who will forget L.R.F.T.S.B.P.T.?

MARCH: The earth began to crawl out from under the blanket of winter. It was a time for beginning. We elected our Student Council officers for next year. Early-bird Juniors took the College Boards, and Seniors tensely watched the mails.

APRIL: A busy but pleasant month. We greeted spring with a Student Council Dance and a Band Concert. The lettermen had their day. Those long-awaited college replies began to arrive. The hunt for summer jobs was on. Easter vacation gave us a chance to relax and start work on our term papers.

MAY: A Choral Festival and a fashion show highlighted the month. Co-ops added a low but not altogether discouraging note. The Seniors left the college-worry-cycle, and the Juniors began.

JUNE: It's here—so soon! The rollercoaster ride begins: up, up high for the Prom; then down for exams and up and down until graduation—the end—the getting-off place—the beginning. We go our several ways.

Remember September?
